DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 18-34,42-48,50,52,53 and 55-60 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Fujita (US Patent 5875758). See the abstract, col. 4, lines 54+; col. 5, lines 22+ and Fig. 2.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

5. Claims 35-41,49,51,54,61 and 62 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fujita in view of Mehne (US Patent 5992369). Fujita applies, as above, but does not disclose joining plastic complementary parts (12, 21) together by vibration welding. Mehne teaches that it is known in the art of plastic intake manifolds to join half pieces together by vibration welding (see col.2). It would have been an obvious matter of design choice to have joined Fujita's complementary pieces (12,21) together by vibration welding as this technique is already known in the art.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments filed 13 January 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. In particular, applicants argue that the 35 USC 102(b) and or 103(a) rejections are not applicable to the claims because Fujita does not teach the bearings being formed integrally "with at least one of said parts". The examiner disagrees since the bearing grooves (19) are formed integrally with "one of said parts". Furthermore, applicant also argues that Fujita does not teach parts that "form complementary parts of the manifold chamber". The examiner disagrees since the term "manifold chamber" is broad and it is unclear from applicant's drawings what is referred to as a manifold chamber, although it appears to be an intake passage.

Conclusion

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
